GAMES

Games Always Make Everyone Smart.
The culture of inclusion in European citizenship:
by playing we include

Our Erasmus plus project entitled "Games Always Make Everyone Smart. The culture of inclusion in European citizenship: by playing we include ", of which the Comorensivo Institute" Vitruvio Pollione "is the coordinating school, involves all the European schools engaged in the development of European citizenship and inclusion strategies in a European key through comparison and pedagogical and cultural exchange with the Schools of the Partner Nations: Portugal, Greece, Poland, Romania and Croatia. The activities will be developed in the specific mobilities that revolve around the game and the playful method in the most varied themes, from traditional games, to games that tell the history and geography of partner countries, to role-playing games, video games. And on the game and the play will be based the experimentation of the best INCLUSION strategies in European dimension.
